Trustee Hupp asked who was in charge of the bazaar. Mrs. Wess did not know who was in charge of it. If the bazaar was for profit, the fee to rent the building should have been $125. From the paperwork, it looks like it might have been rented at no charge.

There was $315 collected in rentals in late November and up to December 28, 5 @ $25, 1 @ $65 and one auction. At the time of meeting, there were no bookings for January. There was also a copy of the October calendar which Patty Volland requested.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Trash update- The assistant prosecutor has sent 2 letters to CMI and both were returned. They will try to send one to his house. If he doesn't respond within 28 days, they will proceed with the legal matters.

Trustee Chorpenning requested a police report about a situation that occurred in the township on Election Day. The report says Trustee Hupp removed signs off of the township sign that belonged to Jeff Baird. The report says the signs were removed per zoning regulations, the signs were too large and because they were on township property without permission. The signs were returned to the owner. Trustee Chorpenning says there is no size stipulation on those types of signs, zoning regulation 9.10G. Trustee Hupp said he removed the signs the first time and put them in the community building. Trustee Chorpenning retrieved the signs and returned them to Mr. Baird. Trustee Hupp removed the signs a second time because the township did not give him permission to adhere the signs to township property and they were too large for that type of sign. Trustee Chorpenning said, in the past the township has allowed auctions to be advertised. Trustee Hupp said he was covering another event which had already been posted on the sign, which was reminding residents to vote. Zoning inspector said those signs fell under 9.10A in the zoning regulations because it was a sale.

NEW BUSINESS

Tim May asked why Trustee Chorpenning hasn't had the water softener installed. Trustee Chorpenning said Trustee VanBuren told him not to install the softener because he wanted to shock the well, he has it on tape. Trustee VanBuren stated he did not tell him not to install the softener, he told him to check with a well company to see if it should be shocked first.
